Portrait

This series is about who people are. After all, by facial features you can see the past of a person.

You can see the truth in emotions.

You can find the whole world in your eyes.

The face reflects feelings. The face reflects emotions. The face reflects the world.

Boats

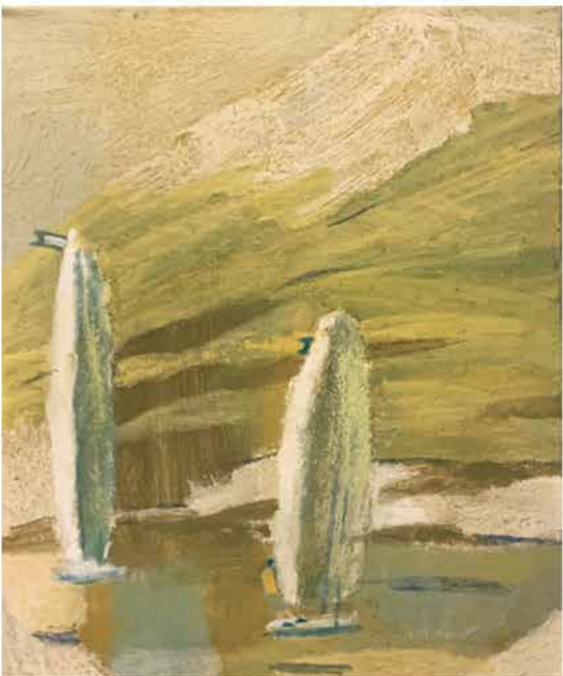

What could be better than independence, freedom? This can only be obtained by being one on one with the wind. This series is about freedom, about yourself. The boat is like an unattainable target.
Boat as a means of subsistence.
The boat is like a dream worth fighting for.

PonyMAX

Ponies are the most stubborn animals. What if it's not?

This series is about the most impetuous ponies.

Ponies are at the maximum.

This series is about the fact that if you want, you can do the impossible.

Tangerines

They represent the sun. It's a series about how even such a small thing makes sense. It's what everyone knows, it's what brings happiness. Tangerine.

CANVAS ON A STRETCHER, MIXED MEDIA

A close-up, artistic photograph of a hand holding a pen. The hand is in the foreground, holding a pen that is out of focus. The background shows a person's arm and hand, also out of focus, creating a sense of depth and movement. The colors are warm and slightly desaturated, with a soft, grainy texture.

Please don't cry

This series was created about the tragic moments of life. When did a plane crash or shipwreck become commonplace for us? It's the hypnosis of a life in which you are inoculated to such things. And what if everything is wrong, if even simple things are like a burst ball, much worse than we treat them? It all depends on your own perception and sensitivity.

Look around

Landscape

Nature is the past. Nature is not real. Nature is the future.

People vs. Dogs

It is already an eternal struggle between the animal world and people.
But who is the real animal here?
Who destroys everything around?

This is a story about those who are endowed with "human" feelings.

Animals

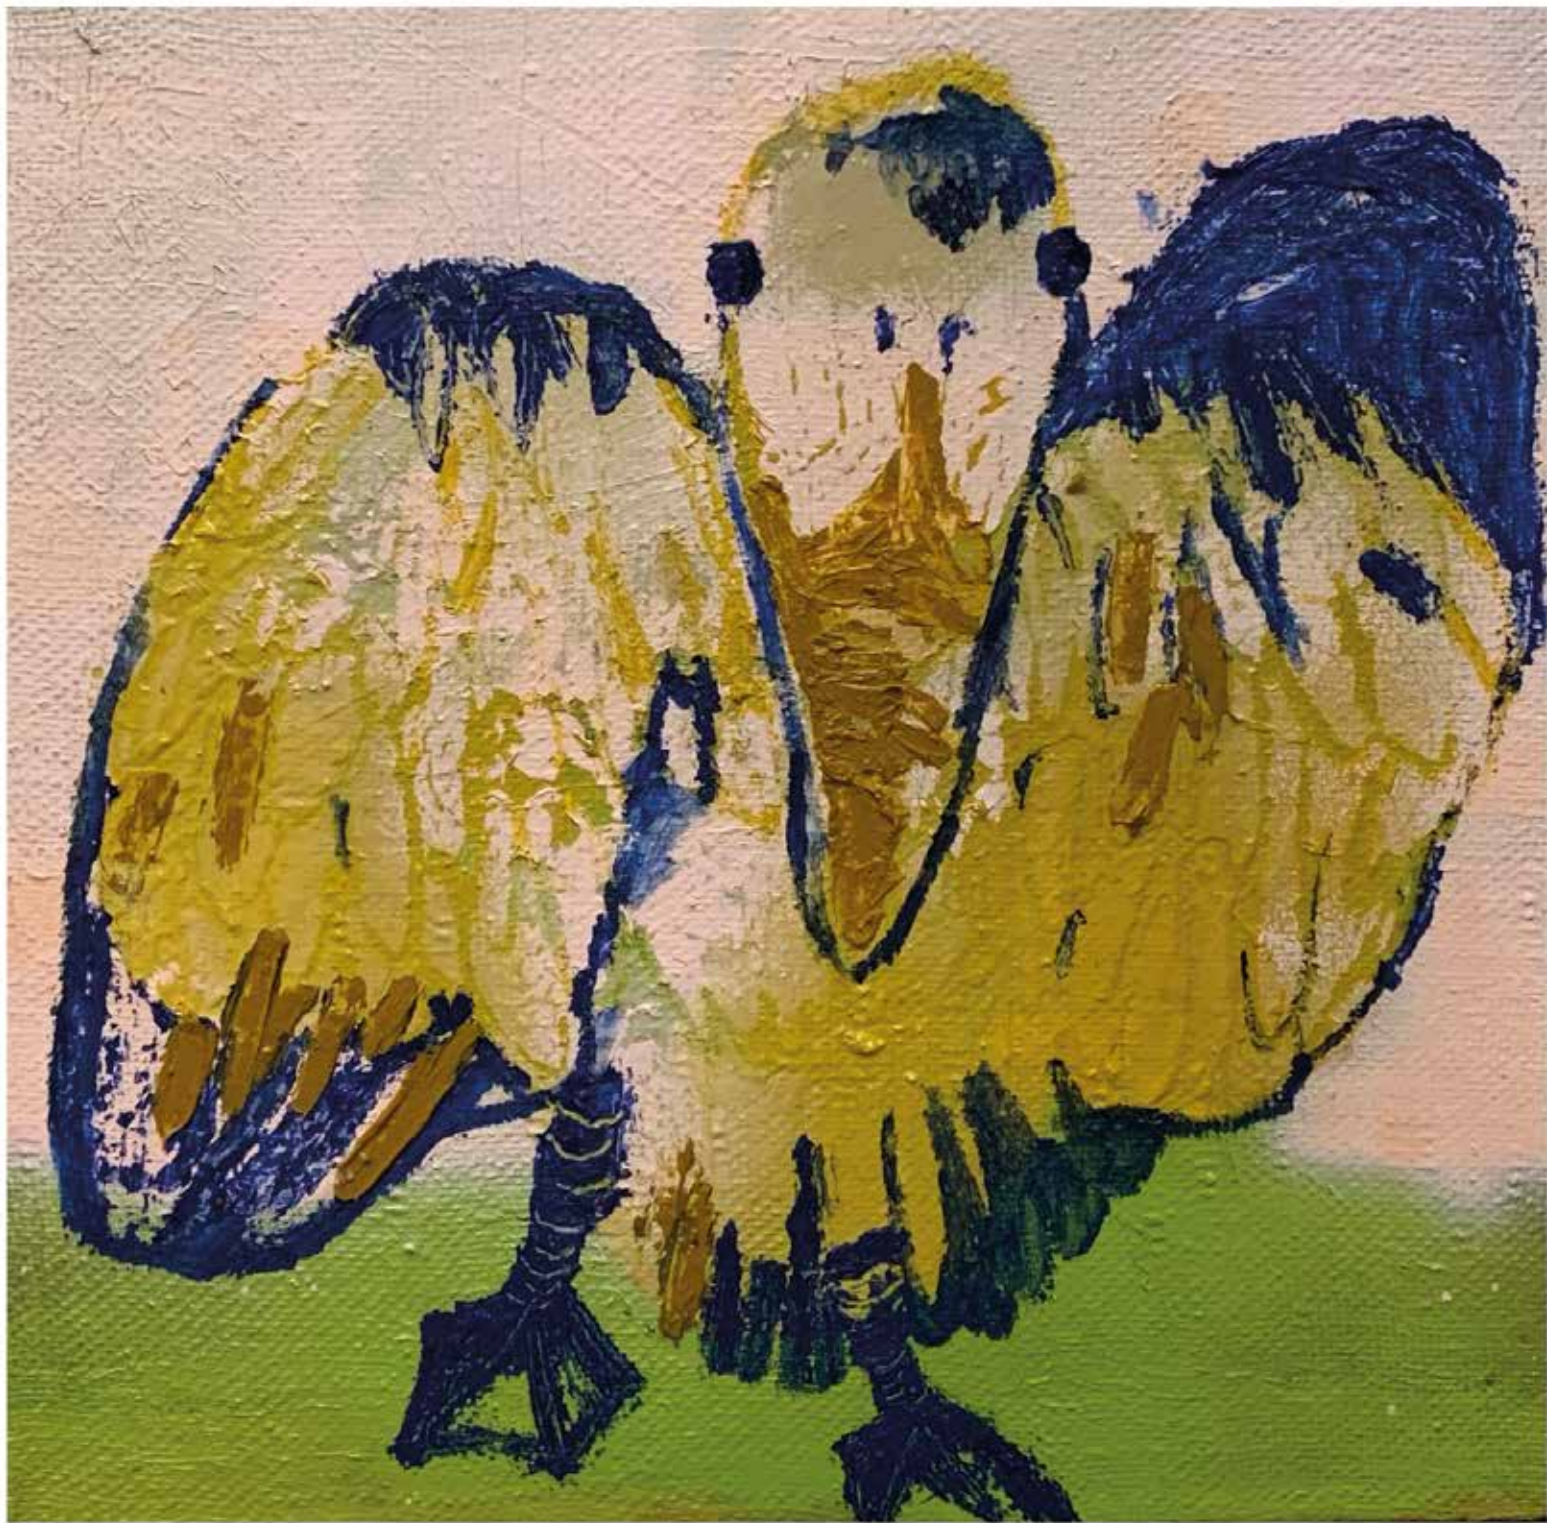

Imagine you don't know how animals look.
That you've never seen, but only heard about them. That's how I create them.

Caps

This is a series about the friendship of people and animals.
Why kill them if you can wear them on your head alive?
Everything is in our capabilities.

Aristocrat's Holiday or Still Life

Free dinner meetings with family and friends. Now it has replaced secular meetings.
And our tables speak for themselves.
